

“ Denver Community School is proud to be a member of the IEC food Co-op. When trying to plan the menu for the school year it becomes very important to keep up with the nutrition specifications that must be adhered to. As a Co-op member I am able to not only learn about new products that are available, but I can also share with other members some of the ideas that we use at Denver. This type of tribal knowledge becomes rewarding to everyone around the state when shared. ”
